FAZtor's Notes

By: Fr. Arnold E. Zamora

Good news: Our Sunday Bulletin will now be in full color.

Bad news: We now have an even earlier deadline of the submission of the bulletin to the printing press but it is worth the sacrifice. We should focus more on the good news and count our blessings. "Thorns do not take away the beauty of a rose." Let's paint our world with colors as we shout and proclaim the good things of life.

There is a story about a father and his young son who were walking through the mountains.

Suddenly, the son fell, hurting his leg on a rock.

He screamed, 'AAhhhh!'

To his surprise, he heard a voice repeating, 'AAhhhh!'

This made him even more curious.

So, he yelled, 'Who are you?' Back came the same answer, 'Who are you?'

Feeling a bit perturbed by this response, he yelled out, 'Coward!'

Back came the same reply, 'Coward!'

He looked at his father and asked: 'What's going on?'

His father smiled and said: 'Son, pay attention.'

Looking across the valley, his father yelled to the mountain, 'I admire you!'

The voice answered: 'I admire you!'

Again the man cried out: 'You are a champion!'

The voice replied, 'You are a champion!'

The boy was amazed, but he was very confused. So, his father explained...

'You are only hearing an echo, the sound of our voices bouncing back from the mountains'.

However, this is really how life works. It returns to you what you think, say and do!

Our lives are a reflection of our thoughts and actions.

If you want more love in your world, create more love in your heart.

If you want to be treated with kindness, treat others with kindness.

If you want more competence on your team, become more competent.

This relationship applies to everything, in all aspects of life.

Life will give to you, everything you give to it, only it will give you even more in return. Your life is not ever a coincidence. Each moment is a reflection of you!

The son listened and grew in understanding, and through the following years, he witnessed the truth of these words in his life! (an adaptation)

A life well lived is simply a compilation of days well spent.

Make each day a journey of love and kindness to everyone.

Our life is surrounded by people who judge us day in and day out.

They can make or break us, but the key is to live a life that pleases God, not people.

REFLECTION:

Love in the Body of Christ

"The Body of Christ is grounded in the past and yearning for the future. It lives, therefore, in faith and hope. Faith is the acceptance that God did in fact raise Jesus from the dead. Hope is the confidence that, in the light of that resurrection, God will transform all things to serve God's will. The Christian community is defined by its faith and hope. But love is its heart. The way that Christians deal with each other patiently and with kindness is the sign that the community is truly Christ's Body."

Sacrament of Confirmation of Adults If you have received the sacraments of Baptism and Holy Communion in the Catholic Church, but have not been confirmed, our parish offers a class for adults, 18 years and over to prepare for the sacrament of Confirmation. Please contact Sr. Cristina in the parish office. Kindly pass this information to people you know who need this sacrament. Thank you.

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) We invite you or people you know to explore the Catholic faith and practices in an hour-long weekly session with Sr. Cristina and RCIA catechists. We will arrange the sessions at your convenience. Please contact Sr. Cristina about this important matter.

Religious Education Classes for 2018-2019 We have started Religious Education classes for school year 2018-2019 but are still accepting registrations. We ask parents or guardians to make it possible for your children to come for sacramental preparation through the Rite of Christian Initiation of Children and Youth (RCICY), First Holy Communion or Youth Confirmation. We are blessed with a team of catechists who live their vocation as "Educators of the Faith". This year our Religious Education classes are taught and guided by: Hilda Dela Cruz (Coordinator), George Guim, Alejandra Brito, Rebecca Carrasco, Rosvida Uskert, Ding Carbonel, Lina Hidalgo, Reenu John and Jacqueline Tom. Please contact Sr. Cristina for more information.

Our Senior Club Fall Trip will be on October 11, 2018. We will have a pilgrimage to St. Francis Assisi Shrine in North Beach. This will be both a prayerful gathering as well as community building. We will pray for the special intention of Pope Francis and for the Catholic Church in this time of crisis, through the intercession of St. Francis of Assisi who was instructed by our Lord Himself, to "rebuild my Church". There will be a sacrament of Reconciliation and Mass, as well as a visit to the "Portiuncula". Lunch will be at an Italian restaurant near the church. Thanks to Angela Testani and Fr. John De la Riva, O.F.M., Cap for helping us arrange this trip. We have limited space and are on a first come first served basis. Please sign up early with Marge Finney.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

In this country, we don't name our churches "The Fourth Avenue Catholic Church," but rather seek a patron saint or mystery of faith. We inherit this tradition from an old Roman custom via medieval England. Interestingly, that has not been the practice elsewhere, and parishes abroad often do carry just the name of the neighborhood. In Ireland, the Roman (English) practices didn't take hold, and so churches are known simply by the street they are on, or by a nickname. Saint Francis of Assisi in Dublin is often called "Adam and Eve" after a pub in the same street. The pub sign is an interesting carving of our first parents, so they become patrons by default. Once a church has been consecrated, its name may not normally be changed. Therefore, when parishes are merged, a new name is given to the parish, which may or may not be that of a heavenly patron, but the church buildings retain their names. In the process, we have lost sight of some worthy patrons of old, but have also seen new parishes open dedicated to twentieth-century saints like Edith Stein, Katharine Drexel, and Mother Teresa. —Rev. James Field, Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

LISTENING AND RESPONDING

There are three interwoven themes in today's readings: listening to God, faith vs. good works, and losing our life in order to find it. How are they related?

The Suffering Servant of Isaiah undergoes much distress and ridicule, but is able to bear it because he has listened to the promptings of God day after day. The psalm tells us that God listens, too. God hears our prayers for help and is always ready to save us. As our faith deepens, so does our desire to do the works of justice and charity that build up the reign of God. God directs our actions in ways we often cannot see, and we don't always see the results. We are called upon in faith to trust that what we do is enough, and that willingness to listen to God's promptings will lead us in the right way.

BUILDING & MAINTENANCE FUND

Today's Second collection is for our Building & Maintenance Fund. Your generosity allows us to take care of our Parish plant. Thank you for your continued support.

NEXT SUNDAY'S SECOND COLLECTION PRIESTS' RETIREMENT FUND

"I have other sheep that are not of this sheep pen.
I must bring them in also.

They too will listen to my voice, and there shall be one flock and one shepherd." - John 10:16

The Archdiocese is blessed to have many retired priests who have dedicated their lives to ministry and care for others. Without your support we would not be able to fully cover the living and medical expenses of our retired priests. To that end, the Archdiocese of San Francisco established the Priests Retirement Fund. As healthcare costs continue to rise, the Priests Retirement Fund provides financial Stability for our retired priests and ensures a secure future for our active priests.

Two opportunities are available to show our gratitude to our retired priests for their many years of faithful service:

- Make a generous gift to the Priests Retirement Fund Collection at Masses throughout the Archdiocese of September 22 and 23. [Envelopes are on the pews].
- Attend and/or sponsor a retired priest to attend the Eighth Annual St. John Vianney Luncheon on Friday, October 26th at St. Mary's Cathedral.

You may drop off your gift to Holy Name or mail to the Archdiocese of San Francisco—Priests Retirement Fund at 1 Peter Yorke Way, San Francisco, CA 94109.

For more information on the Priests Retirement Fund and/or how to leave a gift for your Parish or the Archdiocese in your trust or will, please contact the Office of Development at (415) 614-5582 or development@sfarch.org

Lectio Divina

Read: Translating our faith into concrete action will invite rejection, persecution, and suffering as the world prefers its own ignorance and selfish ways. Living the life of a prophet would mean thinking like God does, which necessarily invites conflict with the ways of the world. Jesus, being the Messiah, was no exception to this.

Reflect: What does it mean "to think like God does"? Who knows the mind of God except the Spirit that searches the depths of God? Are we capable of knowing the thoughts of God, let alone think like He does? Well, being finite human beings, we are unable to grasp the thoughts of God, but thanks to the life of Christ, we can perceive the deeds of God, deeds marked with compassion, love, forgiveness, and letting others be; and we can then work backwards: by doing what Christ did, we will appropriate the thoughts of God. James would wholeheartedly agree.

Pray: Let us pray for the grace to have our thoughts and deeds aligned with those of God.

Act: List out three actions to do this week, actions that would reflect the thoughts of God.

Twenty-fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

September 16, 2018

Peter: earth quaked and then upside down

Simon must have felt the earth quake. His Master had just called him: "Satan". What had gone wrong? After all, Peter had been going quite well. He perceived that Jesus was more than just another prophet, another religious leader in the Jewish tradition. In fact he recognized that Jesus was the fulfillment of the hope of that Jewish tradition: the Messiah, the Anointed One, the Christ (in Greek).

But for Peter that word "Christos" filled his head with all sorts of images of political power and sovereignty. He thought a political revolution was at hand. The Roman occupying army would be expelled and Jesus would rule from Jerusalem as the anointed liberator.

Jesus did not deny that he was the Christ, the Anointed One. But he knew that as he remained true to His mission, the authorities would move against him in deadly fashion.

What was his mission? A mission of embracing those put on the margins of society, the "untouchables" of his time; the lepers, the prostitutes and the collaborators collecting tax; his mission of conversing easily with women, and encouraging their discipleship against all the taboos; his mission to embody and advance the Reign of God;

Our Lord had no illusions. It was Peter who was living in a fantasy world, an imaginary world of easy victory for the kingdom of God.

Jesus had to take the strongest possible stand against Peter's point of view so that Peter would be prepared for the worst. Of course, it didn't work. As we know, Peter denied Jesus three times when the cross eventually loomed as reality.

Can we blame Peter? Here in our Australian democracy, we hardly feel the force of this gospel passage forewarning the followers of Jesus that they could be faced with a cross of persecution.

So we trivialize the meaning of "taking up the cross" to make it refer to bearing a chronic ailment or putting up with a particularly irritating family member or work colleague: "the cross I have to bear."

No, Our Lord is referring to the truly deadly situation where if his followers remain true to His way of life so that the dominant powers in society feel threatened, then those powers will try to silence such followers.

There are many contemporary examples of the persecution of Christians from the Middle East to Nigeria.

It is very telling that the ISIL cult, the most barbaric torturer and murderer of Christians to emerge in recent times, contemptuously refers to Christianity as "the religion of the cross." They have actually perceived that reality. But, of course, not in the perspective and dimension of the resurrection.

Our Lord is saying to his persecuted followers: "Persevere, don't renounce your allegiance to me. There is a power more dominant than the political power oppressing you. The really dominant power lies in my victory over death and I will give you a share in that victory."

I know this is easily said from the safety of Australia. But it is our post-Resurrection faith. Even Simon Peter, with the benefit of the Resurrection, eventually understood that Jesus was indeed the Christ, but One whose victory lay through the passage of death on the cross.

Tradition tells us that Peter was crucified upside down at the foot of the Vatican Hill in Rome: no longer "Satan", but Martyr, co-Founder of the Church in Rome.
