Jesus said to them, “I tell you, the tax collector went home justified, not the Pharisee; for whoever exalt themselves will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted.”

LUKE 18:14
Today’s readings invite us into prayer, into relationship with God. Because relationships feel more natural when we know one another well, Sirach encourages us to know God better. In his wisdom, Sirach tells us what God is like: fair, open-minded, compassionate, and attentive. “The Lord is not deaf to the wail of the orphan, nor to the widow when she pours out her complaint (Sirach 35:17-18a).

Today’s Gospel draws us close to Jesus too, revealing his special love for the poor and humble. As Jesus tells his parable about the prayer habits of a Pharisee and a tax collector, our hearts long to become as gentle as Christ’s.

TODAY’S READINGS

First Reading — The Lord is not deaf to the wail of the orphan, nor to the widow when she pours out her complaint (Sirach 35:17-18a).

Psalm — The Lord hears the cry of the poor (Psalm 34).

Second Reading — The Lord will rescue me from every threat (2 Timothy 4:6-8, 16-18).

Gospel — All who exalt themselves will be humbled; all who humble themselves will be exalted (Luke 18:9-14).

RELATIONSHIP WITH GOD

Today’s readings invite us into prayer, into relationship with God. Because relationships feel more natural when we know one another well, Sirach encourages us to know God better. In his wisdom, Sirach tells us what God is like: fair, open-minded, compassionate, and attentive. “The Lord will not delay,” he says. Knowing that God’s help comes right on time, whenever we need it, calms our hearts and helps us trust the Lord. Today’s Gospel draws us close to Jesus too, revealing his special love for the poor and humble. As Jesus tells his parable about the prayer habits of a Pharisee and a tax collector, our hearts long to become as gentle as Christ’s.

LET US PRAY FOR:

We pray for the Sick...that they may experience God’s Love and Healing.

We pray for those who have Died...that they may be granted a home in heaven.

It’s October Fright Fest for our school this weekend. Not too long ago, somebody asked me why they call it Fright Fest. I don’t have the knowledge of the history of the event. I was guessing the fact that it is close to Halloween and often times they have a haunted house, that could be a frightening experience. But the whole event is actually more fun than fright. Even if they build a house to frighten you, you still expect to have fun or you expect to be frightened so that you can have fun. Like going to an amusement park, riding a roller coaster can be frightening, but you still go for it to have fun. So, our October Fright Fest is actually an October Fun Fest. Fright or Fun, enjoyment is all around!

This weekend is also for our Commitment of Treasure for our Stewardship Renewal. May every one of us prayerfully consider our financial support to our parish. Let us thank God for the blessings in our lives that He has bestowed upon us. In gratitude for those blessings, discern how you might return those gifts to God through an increase in your offering to support our ministry. Let us be guided by these words from the Book of Sirach 35:9-10: “Give to the Most High as He has given to you, generously, according to your means, for the Lord is one who always repays, and He will give back to you sevenfold.”

Mrs. Smartt was fumbling in her purse for her offering when a large television remote fell out and clattered into the aisle. The curious usher bent over to retrieve it for her and whispered, “Do you always carry your TV remote to church?”

“No,” she replied, “but my husband refused to come with me this morning, and I figured this was the most evil thing I could do to him legally.”

Now here is “The Paradox of our Era.”

- We live in times when we see many humans, but not enough humanity;
- We live in times when the rich have more rooms than children, while the poor have more children than rooms;
- We live in times when smart phones bring us closer to those afar, but distance us from those who are close by;
- We live in times when we open Facebook more than The Holy Book;
- We live in times when a single mother can effectively look after her 10 children, but her 10 children can’t agree as to who will look after their single mother;
- We live in times when the rich walk miles to digest food, while the poor walk miles in search of food;
- We live in times when our contact list keeps increasing, but our relationships continue to decline;
- We live in times when our possessions are more, but our appreciation is less;
- We live in times when we know how to earn a good living, but somehow forget how to live a good life;
- We live in times when many know the price of everything, but not the value of our many blessings;

Indeed, we are now living in a very strange world... May our good and merciful Lord God forgive us all for the distorted thoughts of our time.

Remember, it is the good deeds we do, the kind words we say, the true love we give, and the humility we show, that help us find the real treasures of life.

YOUR HEALTH MATTERS!

The Importance of Fun

Did you ever notice how children seem to have an unlimited amount of energy when it comes to playing? They love “recess” at school and after school, they are playing so much, they don’t even want to come in for dinner! When it comes to having fun, kids have the advantage over adults. While most adults would like to have a good time, the desire is often tempered by a competing need to get ahead in life or to get things done. Social relationships play a significant role in a child’s sense of overall happiness.

So what about adults? Play for adults is critical in our stressful go-go-go lives. Play has been shown to release endorphins, improve brain functionality, and stimulate creativity, and can even help to keep us young and feel energetic!! Studies shows that play improve memory and stimulates the growth of the cerebral cortex (which is responsible for thinking, perceiving, producing and understanding language)! So let’s have some Fun!!

Fun Group Activities for Adults:
- Take a cooking class
- Take an art class
- Go bowling
- Tour your city as a group
- Share nature walks
- Throw a board game party
- Stretch out during a yoga class

So what do you do for fun?

To your health,
Angela Testani R.N.
