God’s presence is not discerned at the time when it is upon us, but afterwards, when we look back. — John Henry Newman
God gifts every parish with a symphony of talented people. God can create beautiful music through just a portion of His people, yet it will never reach its full potential until every individual is part of the song. This is God’s hope spoken through St. Paul in First Corinthians.

The best version of a parish is when their people recognize and receive their gifts with gratitude and share them in love of God and their neighbor. This is the essence of living one’s life as a steward of God. This is our baptismal call. This is what a stewardship renewal is about.

As Holy Name of Jesus continues to move forward on its stewardship journey, more and more people will grasp the significance of this and embrace using their own gifts. Last year’s Stewardship Renewal Report is proof that our parishioners are indeed making stewardship their way of life. To see that 731 commitments to prayer were made by 137 households, as well as 116 new commitments to ministries shows a desire for spiritual growth. In addition, 43 families who were not previously involved have chosen to take the next step towards involvement in parish life, and $162,327 was pledged to the offertory which represents an increase of $60,058, a 59% increase in this and embrace using their own gifts. In addition, 43 families who were not previously involved have chosen to take the next step towards involvement in parish life, and $162,327 was pledged to the offertory which represents an increase of $60,058, a 59% increase in giving from what those households gave last year. What a gift to see how God is moving through the hearts of our parishioners!

The Stewardship Committee is excited to present this report to you and we look forward to what God has in store for the future at Holy Name of Jesus!

There was a 26% response rate from active households (130 of 508 active households), which is defined by those families who gave at least $1 to the offertory over the past year.

91% of participating households made prayer commitments. Each household made an average of 5 prayer commitments.

Parishioners are continuing to take ownership in the parish by signing up for ministries in large numbers. Approximately 75% of the participating households made a commitment to ministry.

116 of the 339 ministry commitments were NEW commitments, which is an indication that parishioners are stepping forward to get more involved in parish life. Relatively inactive families are becoming involved at Holy Name of Jesus. 43 families who were not previously active in any ministry signed up to get involved in ministries.

80% of participating households made a treasure commitment, totaling $162,327 from annual pledges which is 59% more than they had actually given the previous 12 months. (This is calculated by comparing actual giving to pledged giving.)

Again, thank you for your support and believing that life lived as a steward can be one of grace and fulfillment. Surely, our parish will continue to develop and mature in a spirituality of faithful discipleship. The result of this will radically impact the faith community of Holy Name of Jesus Parish next year, with strong participation of our young people in colorful t-shirts and banners depicting our parish’s commitment for life!

Feast of St. Josephine Bakhita will be this Thursday, February 8. Mass will be at 9:30AM led by the school. The Lay Canossians will host a reception in the Flanagan Center for parishioners immediately after Mass.

Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time—February 4, 2018

In the time of Jesus almost everything they couldn’t understand was put down to a demon or an evil spirit. In the Talmud, (a large book dating from around the time of Jesus that contains the collected teachings of the Rabbis), several pages are devoted to the healing of “fevers.” Even though we have become more advanced in our medical knowledge, it’s surprising how this thinking still persists. While most people don’t blame evil for their ailments, they can think God has a direct hand in sending an illness or an injury. Such faulty theology cannot be reconciled with the New Testament.

There is not a single instance where Jesus inflicts pain and suffering on others. He regularly tells us we have to carry our cross and bear our burdens, but this is vastly different from personally laying a cross on our shoulders or giving us the burdens in the first place. By contrast, every time that Jesus encounters suffering and pain he works to heal it and restore the person to new life.

The differences between the healing of Peter’s mother-in-law and the other healing stories in the first chapter of Mark’s Gospel are striking. Rather than in a public space and in front of crowds this personal healing occurs in the privacy of Peter’s house. By contrast to the command for the demons to be gone, in his bedside ministry Jesus never mentions a demon and uses no words. Instead he gently takes her by the hand and helps her to her feet. Unlike the others Jesus heals, of whom we never hear about their response, the healing of Peter’s mother-in-law leads her to an act of service. Given all the details Mark gives of this encounter it’s a pity he never tells us her name.

Sometimes we can think of Jesus’ miracles, then and now, as acts of dazzling power. The problem with this idea is that if we see Jesus as going around “zapping” people it’s hard to figure out why there were times when he could not perform any miracles at all, or that they happened in stages. Whatever else miracles are, they are deeply personal encounters of faith. As Catholics we believe in the power of miracles and that the source of them is always the grace of God. But we do not have to see them as something done to us from without. Rather, we can see them as unlocking something from within. For some people Jesus’ word or touch set free the healing power God had placed in them. For others it came through another person’s intercession. The same holds true for us today.

Furthermore, being anointed, celebrating Reconciliation or Eucharist, going to a place of pilgrimage, fasting, being prayed over, or meditating can have a similar effect. Looked at in this way we can see why some people are healed and others are not. If a personal encounter with Jesus did not always lead to healing, then why should it surprise us that some other encounters these days do not always unlock God’s healing within us.

Small and large-scale miracles are happening everyday. Today’s Gospel reminds us that they do not happen for show or for the sake of the crowd. They are realizations of faith. Taking Peter’s mother-in-law as our model we are healed and strengthened so that we can witness to God’s saving power, serve the Kingdom of God in any way we can, and continue to wait on the Lord.
