Take care to guard against all greed, for though one may be rich, one’s life does not consist of possessions.

Luke 12:15
TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — Vanity of vanities! All things are vanity! (Ecclesiastes 1:2; 2:21-23).

Psalm — If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts (Psalm 90).

Second Reading — You too will appear with Christ your life in glory (Colossians 3:1-5, 9-11).

Gospel — For though one may be rich, one’s life does not consist of possessions (Luke 12:13-21).

REASONS TO PRAY

We pray for the Sick … that they may experience God’s Love and Healing.

We pray for those who have Died … that they may be granted a home in heaven.

Jeffrey Pudlow HN ’79
FAZtor’s Notes:
By: Fr. Arnold Zamora

We were so blessed to have all three masses presided by three bishops on this past Sunday. The 7:30 AM mass was celebrated by Bishop Wang assisted by Fr. Simon. The 9:30 AM mass was presided by Bishop Alberto “Abet” Uy assisted by Fr. Efren Bonggay. Bishop Uy is the Bishop of the Diocese of Tagbilaran, Bohol, Philippines, the diocese where I was originally ordained as a priest before moving to San Francisco. Fr. Bonggay is the Vicar for Clergy of the Diocese of Tagbilaran. Both were my former students in Philosophy and Music at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Seminary in the Philippines.

The 11:30 AM mass was presided by the former bishop of Tagbilaran, now retired, Bishop Leonardo Medroso and assisted by Fr. Ronald Amora, pastor of Manga Holy Trinity Parish in the Diocese of Tagbilaran.

The four presbyters were also our house guests for the weekend on their way to attend our annual PB-USA reunion last week (July 29-August 2) in New Orleans. PB-USA stands for Paring Bol-anon or priests from Bohol, Philippines now serving in the US and Canada. There were 70 priests, more or less, and 5 bishops who attended the reunion. It was hosted by our fellow Boholanos priests now assigned in the Diocese of Houma-Thibodaux in Southeastern Louisiana.

You may have noticed the image of the Divine Mercy at the back of the church. Finally, we were able to put it up. We thank the donors, who just preferred to be anonymous. We also thank Bishop Uy for blessing the image towards the end of the 9:30AM mass last Sunday.

With the Divine Mercy, we also invoke your mercy and kind understanding for the inconvenience some of you might have experienced due to the closure of one of our church bathrooms. We discovered a broken pipe up the ceiling of the bathroom, part of the Church Fire Sprinkler System, but we hope to fix it very soon. The work never stops here at church. The second collection for the building and maintenance is not enough to always repair and maintain our facilities but surely helps.

Here’s an irony of life:
The lawyer hopes you get in trouble
The doctor hopes you get sick
The police hopes you break the law
The landlord hopes that you don't buy a house
The mechanic hopes that your car breaks down
The coffin maker wants you dead soon
Only a thief wishes you prosperity in life.
And he prays you have a sound sleep.

When you pray for yourself, you enter into an intimate relationship with God, and blessings will flow into your life.

But when you begin to pray for others, then you open the floodgates of heaven.

Grace will flow from one person to another. Blessings and graces, you see, flow like the river. And it needs an open channel in order for it to flow. Thank you for being that open channel.

Cheers to the new month of August, cheers to a new beginning!

In his Spiritual Exercises, St Ignatius Loyola says that pride, riches and power are the three most seductive and destructive temptations in the world. So many conflicts, and yet, their continuance, can be traced to the interplay of this unholy trinity. The so-called reality TV shows demonstrate just how far some of our compatriots will go to be famous, to be wealthy or to have a certain clout in the popular imagination.

We should never be surprised when our media culture reflects this back to us, by watching the programs, reading the papers and the magazines, listening to the shock-jocks and buying the merchandise, we are part of the problem, not the solution.

In today's Gospel Jesus tells us just how deadly riches and greed can be. Our own experience tells how right He is: think of how many children fight in the playground because everything they see "is mine"; the families who have fought over an estate; the number of friends who have fallen out over even small amounts of money; colleagues who no longer speak to each other because of a failed investment; and nations who have gone to war to get what their neighbors have.

The issue with money is not having it, because money, and the health, education and welfare that flow from it, are good things whereas poverty is an evil that God wants wiped off the face of the earth. The problem is what we do with money and what it does to us. Some Christians think that just because they are financially comfortable from legitimate earnings, they do not have to take any responsibility for the world's poor who are often stereotyped as being lazy, war-mongering and irreligious. These images may justify not sharing more of the excess we have, but it does not remove the moral obligation Jesus demands of us today. Of the world's 6 billion people, 1.2 billion of them live on US$1, or less, a day. On average 26,000 children will die today of starvation. We should try telling them they're lazy, war-mongering and irreligious! In an attempt to get rich quickly or to stay rich, most western countries gamble away 10 to 15 times more money than they give to third world development—money that might see markets and wages that are just, and so provide an incentive for work, curtail or prevent some wars and help develop democracy.

When faced with the enormity of the world's poverty, the bad spirit can convince us that it is so large there is nothing that we can do about it. Not true. Every moment of consciousness and each act of greed can be. When faced with the enormity of the world's poverty, the bad spirit can convince us that it is so large there is nothing that we can do about it. Not true. Every moment of consciousness and each act of goodness toward anyone anywhere is a victory for God's kingdom and will to be done "here on earth as it is in heaven."

No one can pretend, however, that sharing is always easy or that throwing money around will solve the world's problems. Everyone who works in the front-line says that the biggest obstacle in the war on poverty is dignity. And dignity, as Jesus reminds us today, has very little to do with money or possessions. Each time we make a claim for our own dignity and we give dignity to people who do not even claim it for themselves, we contribute to the generous and just world Jesus wants. And sometimes that can be as easy as turning the channel on the radio or the TV.

Fr Pedro Arrupe inherited the office of leading the Jesuits four centuries after its founder St Ignatius Loyola died. He once said that, "the celebration of the Eucharist is always incomplete while there is hunger in the world." Let’s pray at this Eucharist that we do not blunt the hard edge of the Gospel. Rather let us accept its power to convert our hearts and minds that we might meet its challenges in regard to bestowing dignity and sharing our possessions with those who have a just claim on them.
