HAPPY EASTER!

Happy Easter! Or as most other languages prefer: Blessed Pasch—Passover! Pasqua, Pascua, Páscoa, Pâques! Israel's Passover through the Red Sea to the Promised Land! Jesus' Passover through the Cross to resurrection! Our catechumens' Passover last night, and ours once upon a time, through Baptism's waters to our family's Eucharist! Welcome, everybody! As someone once said of the Catholic Church, "Here comes everybody!" So in this Jubilee of Mercy, we make our own Saint John Chrysostom's Easter welcome from fourteen hundred years ago: "Let everyone enjoy this radiant feast! You who fasted from Lent's beginning, and you who didn't fast at all, rejoice! The table's richly set! Come, take from it, everybody, no worries, no embarrassment! All of you, taste the banquet of faith! Enjoy the feast of forgiveness! Let no one grieve for having sinned again and again: pardon has risen from the tomb!" Happy Easter! Blessed Pasch! Welcome, everybody!

IMMORTAL HOPE

Immortal hope dispels the gloom! An angel sits beside the tomb.

FAZtor's Notes

by Fr. Arnold Zamora

Christ the Lord is Risen Today, Alleluia!

Happy Easter!

This special day always reminds me of so many positive things: there is redemption in failure, there is hope in despair, there is joy after weeping, there is a light at the end of the tunnel, there is solution to every problem, there is gain for every pain, there is a reward for every sacrifice, there is victory that comes after a loss, there is glory in our cross.

Most of all, this special day reminds me that there is the gift of eternal life, even as death comes to end our earthly life.

Mathematicians say LIFE is like a line segment drawn from point B to point D.

What is point B to point D?

It's from point of Birth (B) to point of Death (D).

So life starts from the moment we are Born(B) until the day we Die (D).

But in the middle of B(Birth) and D(Death) is a mysterious C.

What is C then? It is CHRIST.

If we put Christ in the middle of our life

(Birth--->Christ--->Death) our life will not end at D but extend to E.

What is E? It's Eternal Life.

So all those who put Christ in the middle of their life have Eternal life after Death

But those who do not put Christ in the middle of their lives don't have Eternal life after Death but they have F (Fire).

Therefore the mathematical Equation or Definition of Life for Christians is

$$B + C + D = E$$

$$\text{Birth} + \text{Christ} + \text{Death} = \text{Eternal Life}$$

And the mathematical Equation or Definition of Life for Unbelievers:

$$(B - C) + D = F$$

$$\text{Birth} - \text{Christ} + \text{Death} = \text{Fire}$$

Any one that avoids C must surely lose E.

For scriptural references, please check the following

1John 5:11-13; Acts 4:12 ;John 5:34; Rom 10:1; John 3:16 & 17; Rev 20:11-15

With the resurrection of our Lord and our own rising to new life, the floor in the vestibule of our chapel in the Pastoral Center also had come to new life after being polished. Thanks to the initiative and generosity of parishioner Mike Sarafian.

I am reminded of a story of a lawyer and his doctor friend who were working out at the gym with new polished floor.

"I come here to exercise, but people are always asking me for advice," the doctor complained to the lawyer. "What do you think I should do?"

"Well," said the lawyer, "the next time you give advice, send a bill."

A few days later, the doctor opened his mail and found a bill – from the lawyer.

April 15th is the last day for filing Tax Returns. Did you already pay what you owe to the country?

How about what we owe to God? Through the cross, Jesus paid them all. When Jesus said "It is finished," what is finished? It is the debt we owe God by our sins. It has been paid in full. A reason to rejoice and celebrate.

May you all have a Blessed Easter!

Easter Sunday of the Resurrection of the Lord

A man was driving along the road when he saw the Easter Bunny hop into his lane. He swerved to avoid hitting the bunny, but couldn't do so. The basket of eggs went everywhere. The driver felt guilty and began to cry. A woman saw the man and pulled over. "What's wrong?" she asked. "I accidentally killed the Easter Bunny," he explained. The woman knew exactly what to do. She went to her car, pulled out a spray can, walked over to the Bunny, and sprayed the entire contents over the little furry animal. Miraculously the Easter Bunny came back to life, jumped up, picked up his eggs, waved at them and hopped on down the road. Not far away the Easter Bunny stopped, turned around and waved again. He kept doing this for as far as they could see.

The man was astonished. "What in heaven's name is in that can you sprayed on the Easter Bunny?" The woman showed the man the label. It said: "Hair spray. Restores life to dead hair. Adds permanent wave."

For many of our children the bunny and its eggs are the most important thing about Easter. Over the millennia, Christianity has had a gift for domesticating local traditions and festivals, bringing them on board and making them our own. The name Easter comes from the Anglo Saxon spring festival in honor of the goddess Eostre. Her symbol was the rabbit and the giving of eggs were signs of new life bursting forth as winter withdrew. These associations only make sense in the northern hemisphere, but we can see why the early Christians could be so adaptable and inculturated with this local festival.

In both hemispheres Christians today celebrate Jesus being raised from the dead. In the New Testament there are two traditions about how the disciples come to know about Jesus' resurrection: the empty tomb and the apparitions of Christ.

Today's Gospel belongs to the empty tomb tradition. On Magdalene's urging, Peter and John run to the tomb, find it empty and come to at least an initial belief about the resurrection of Jesus.

We do not believe that God simply revived Jesus' corpse in the tomb, as our driver resuscitated the bunny in today's story. Easter Sunday does not celebrate the resuscitation of Jesus, but his Resurrection. We know his "glorified body" was not the same as his human body because Jesus' presence could be encountered in several places simultaneously and he is reported to walk through walls and to vanish. The link between both resurrection traditions is the importance of Jesus' death. In the empty tomb accounts, as in today's gospel, the writers give us extraordinary details about the grave clothes. In the apparition narratives there are usually references to Jesus' wounds.

Whatever way they came to experience the Resurrection of Christ, the disciples knew that this was Jesus who actually died and was buried and that their personal encounter was with the one who was crucified.

What God did through the death and resurrection of Jesus is what Christians have done with local customs and festivals ever since: he entered into it, understood it, took it on board, domesticated it and vanquished its power. As a result we believe that God empathizes with the full limitations of our human mortality and promises to remain faithful to us in death as he remained utterly faithful to Jesus.

That is why on this day 1,600 years ago St. John Chrysostom could say on behalf of us all:

"Hell took a body, and discovered God. It took earth, and encountered Heaven. It took what it saw, and was overcome by what it could not see. O death, where is your sting? O Hell, where is your victory?"
